Exhibits will include crafts in clay and leather and paintings in chalk, tempera, ink, watercolor and crayon. There will also be designs in two and three dimensions.

Grain Growers Want Controls

Approval for the Grain Sorghum Producers Association to seek acreage controls for grain sorghums was given by a group of Randall County farmers Friday night in a meeting in the district courtroom.

The approval, or lack of disapproval of the plan, was given in answer to questions asked by Bill Nelson, executive vice president of the association. Nelson said his association was asking the questions of farmers in each of the counties it serves.

He asked these questions: "Should we work to get grain sorghums tied to corn prices on the basis of feed value alone?" "Are you in favor of cutting acres for higher price supports?" "Are you in favor of the association working in Congress to gain the provisions of last year's Omnibus Farm Bill?"

Nelson asked for a show of hands on each of the questions, then asked if anyone present was opposed. No opposition was voiced.

He explained the Omnibus Farm Bill, which was defeated on the floor of the House last year, as it covered grain sorghums. He said it tied the price of sorghum and corn together, and created acreage controls. The bill would have cut each farmer's base 20 per cent, and would have paid an amount equal to about two-thirds of the production for the acres not planted.

Nelson said the bill would put the support price on grain sorghums at $2.03 this year instead of the $1.52 as announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

The meeting was set to give Randall County farmers an opportunity to discuss the cut in the support price. The price last year was $1.83. The prices are the national rates, and are increased or decreased according to a number of factors, including transportation to markets, etc.

Last year's national figures for grain sorghums was cut eight cents in Randall County, making the price here $1.75. If the same decrease holds, the price this year will be $1.44. In addition, the farmer pays an average of 13 cents per hundred weight for storage, making the net figure about $1.31. Nelson said the legislation proposed last year gave grain sorghums a feeding value equal to 95 per cent of corn.

Elbert Hart of Abernathy, secretary of the association, told the meeting of the activities of the association. He said that if the price of sorghums had been tied to corn on the basis of feed value, and that price had been set by Benson, the national price for this year would have been $1.90 instead of $1.52.

Nelson told the group of the activities of the association in the fields of market development and foreign promotion. He pointed out the importance of the meeting being held in Amarillo today as the first instance of cooperation between corn and sorghum growers, industry and research men to study the common needs of all.

Nelson said the association, using "counterpart" funds of the U. S. held in foreign countries, has established an exhibit that will be shown at a number of trade fairs in Europe this year. The first is in Turin, Italy.

As an end to the meeting, the farmers elected three of their group to serve on the association board of directors. They are John A. Williams, Kenneth Erwin and Donald Olson.

Bill Nelson, left, executive vice president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and Elbert Hart of Abernathy, secretary of the association, talk with Murphy White, back to camera, and Wesley Cox following the meeting Friday night.

Speech Festival Is Tuesday Night

Canyon High School's entrants in Interscholastic League speech contests will be selected at a Speech Festival at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium. The public is urged to attend the affair.

Included on the program will be senior boys and girls declamation, a debate and poetry reading. The debate will be between a girls team and a boys team.

Participants will be: Senior Girls Declamation: Pat Haley, Ocoee Johnson, Virginia Crounse and Cheryl McClure. Senior Boys Declamation: Roy Harris and Kerry Knorpp. Poetry Reading: Barbara Myer, Carolyn Franklin and Stephanie Conboye.

Pioneer Names Acting Manager

H. R. King, manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Company's Tulsa office for the past two years, is being transferred to Canyon to assume the duties as acting manager during the convalescence of John Hunter, John Sims, district manager, has announced. Sims also stated that it is anticipated King will assume full duty as manager when Hunter retires, early in 1960.

King has been manager at Tulsa since April 1, 1957. He has been with Pioneer since June 1, 1951, following his graduation from West Texas State College.

His first job with Pioneer was in Canyon as a General Plant Operator. He was transferred to Odessa in June, 1952, where he held a number of responsible positions with the company. He was assistant to the manager in Odessa until June 1, 1954, when he was named manager of Pioneer's Slaton office, a position which he held until his transfer in 1957 to Tulsa.

King is a member of the Tulsa Rotary Club. He and his wife have one son, Steve, two and one-half.

First Area Housing Development Plans Announced by Canyon Men

The first planned area housing development in Canyon was announced this week by Hosea Foster and Carroll P. Vaughan, with construction of the first two houses to begin by the end of this week.

The two received FHA commitments for five homes in the 36-home area on Monday. The commitments will allow down payments of $350 plus closing costs, and monthly payments of about $75, including taxes and insurance.

The first houses will be built in the 2600 block of Twelfth Avenue, and Cooper Homes of Amarillo will do the constructing. The development will be three-bedroom houses with masonry trim. Three floor plans will be available, and all have attached garages and storage rooms.

Plans call for building two houses now, one will be used for a show house and the other will be for sale. The remainder of the houses will be built as the demand requires. Sale price will be $11,000, according to the developers.

Corner lots in the development will have 70-foot fronts, and inside lots will be 65 feet. The streets will be paved and curbed and guttered. Concrete drives will be poured to the garages, and front sidewalks will be laid.

It is expected that it will take about six weeks to complete the first two houses. Construction on other houses will begin as orders are received from purchasers, according to Vaughan.

Troops To Mark Girl Scout Week

Canyon Girl Scouts will celebrate Girl Scout Week next week with each troop of the Girl Scouts and Brownies attending a different church Sunday. Girl Scout week marks the birthday of the organization.

Former Resident's Husband Is Dead

He was C. C. Dawson. Mrs. Dawson was Mrs. J. D. Gamble before the death of her first husband. Gamble was an early-day mayor of Canyon.

Vitamin Research

Grant Finances Heart Study

THE HEART INSTITUTE of the National Institute of Health has approved the application of a West Texas State College biology professor for a grant to conduct research here on the effects of a vitamin deficient diet on the development of the heart.

DR. WILLIAM A. COOPER, member of the WT staff since 1957, will receive a grant of $8,910 a year for two years to conduct research on the little known vitamin, biotin. He expects the money to become available after Sept. 1, and it will come from the agency which is a division of the Health, Education and Welfare Department in Washington.

SINCE WORKING ON his Ph.D. degree at Texas A&M College, Dr. Cooper has continued broad research on the biotin vitamin, one of the "trace" or "B" vitamins. With the proposed project to be carried on during his spare time during the academic year, and full time during the summers, Dr. Cooper will restrict his program to a study of the heart's development.

"THE MONEY IS not yet available, but since my application was approved, I feel I can start next September," Dr. Cooper said. "The grant includes money for equipment and to hire student assistants and technicians," he said.

A FELLOW IN the Texas Academy of Science, Dr. Cooper began experiments with biotin-deficiencies while studying toward his doctorate.

BIOTIN IS NORMALLY supplied in the human diet by egg yolk, tomatoes, yeast, can molasses and many other foods. A person's needs are minute, and the human body requires only about one-thousandth as much biotin as other vitamins.

IN DR. COOPER'S experiments, a group of female rats were made deficient in biotin by eating a purified diet containing egg white. A substance in egg white combines with biotin and prevents it from being absorbed from the intestine, Dr. Cooper said.

MOTHER RATS FED this diet containing no biotin produced offspring which were weak in many areas and organs of the body. Particular evidence was shown in the hearts of the young rats, he said.

"THE WEAK AND underdeveloped rats showed certain heart abnormalities," Dr. Cooper said. "The auricles were thin-walled and the ventricles had degenerated cells and large areas were eroded away, particularly in the right ventricle."

DR. COOPER EXPECTS to obtain information and data which will increase the knowledge of science and medicine about the heart and its development.

ASSISTED AND SUPERVISED by Dr. S. O. Brown, professor of zoology and a director of the Texas A&M Research Foundation, Dr. Cooper's experiments at College Station were carried on through grants-in-aid from the National Institutes of Health of the United States Public Health Service and the Surgeon General's Office.

SEVERAL ARTICLES BY Dr. Cooper and Dr. Brown about the vitamin have appeared in scientific journals. The vitamin itself was discovered in 1922, and was called a "growth factor" whose deficiency caused hair to fall out. A number of experiments were conducted with biotin in the 1930's and 1940's, but little detailed knowledge of the vitamin is known.

Saturday's Police Incident

Participants Give Both Sides of Story

Stories of an incident between Chief of Police Max D. McNutt and Melvin Dunn, a maintenance employee at West Texas State, have been repeated a number of times since it occurred about noon Saturday. Here are the two sides to the story, told by the men involved.

McNutt

"I was stopping traffic on the highway for the funeral procession turning off Fifth Avenue. The procession was turning off into the outside lane. I had a line of cars stopped and this car came through on the inside lane. "As it went past I reached out and grabbed the doorhandle and opened it and went for the keys.

When I did I slapped the man. The car was still moving when I grabbed the door.

"I had the man get out and get into the patrol car. I took him to the jail. I let him out about 3 o'clock. He didn't have any driver's license.

"I talked to him pretty hard, maybe harder than I should have. But when I stopped him, I was thinking of the line of cars bumper to bumper and didn't want him to hit any of them.

"To tell the truth I thought he must have been drunk to keep on coming when I had signalled him to stop. I asked him why he didn't stop, and he said he didn't know what I was doing there. If I had it to do over, I'd probably do the same thing again."

McNutt said he told Dunn that he would not press charges of driving without a license and failing to obey a police officer to stop for a funeral procession if Dunn would make an honest attempt to obtain a license Thursday when the Drivers License examiner is here.

Dunn

"I was going down the highway and saw the funeral procession and the cars stopped. I was in the inside lane and was going to stop up where the officer was.

"I didn't have a chance to stop before he opened the door, grabbed the keys and slapped me. He had me get out and made me get into his car and let another guy drive my car down to the station. "I don't have a driver's license.

but he didn't know that until we were at the station and he got my billfold and looked in it. He said, 'You don't have a driver's license,' and I said, 'No, sir.'

"He slapped me with his open hand. It numbed my face some, but it didn't bruise me or anything. He called me some nasty names. He saw I just have one eye, and he said he'd slap the other one out for me if I gave him any trouble.

"I didn't want to cause any trouble about this. I didn't do anything to make him treat me like that. I was going to stop, but he didn't give me a chance. If he had wanted to, he could have given me a ticket, or he could have taken me to the judge, but he didn't have to treat me that way.

"I heard he said I was blind drunk, but I don't even drink."

Heart Drive Cartoon Show

This is a portion of the crowd of youngsters who attended the cartoon show that kicked-off the Heart Drive here. The drive collected about $700, and Randall County was credited as the county with the highest percentage of increase in donations of any county in the state, according to a letter from the state Heart Association.

Widespread or Local Apathy

A feller asked us the other day what a city charter, and home rule government would mean for Canyon. The way he put it was, "Will the average guy on the street know the difference?"

And the answer is a resounding no! The reason for the answer is that the average guy on the street won't be paying any attention. The city government could make six abrupt switches, and the average guy wouldn't know it—unless one of those changes caused him to get a traffic ticket.

We've wondered if the average guy's apathy toward his governmental surroundings is limited to this area, or if it is a widespread affair. Often we think it is tied to Canyon and Randall County, but we can't be sure.

Here's an instance. Last week the secretary of agriculture announced the support price for grain sorghum would be $1.52 per hundred weight. That is a cut of 31 cents from the national support last year. Immediately this decision becomes a matter of economic interest to a great number of people in this county—both farmers and merchants whose business depends on farmers.

There was a meeting called for Friday night to discuss what might be done to change the support price, or at least what new cuss words could be used to identify the secretary of agriculture. The meeting was one of a series held in the counties of the Panhandle.

Our meeting was attended by 55 people.

Earlier in the week, a similar meeting in Hereford was attended by 500 people.

Maybe the farmers and merchants in Randall County figured that they could do nothing, and there's no use in "fighting city hall." Maybe there is no use in a Don Quixote battle, but if no battle is joined, others will do with you as they please.

The people who attended the meeting here approved, or at least they didn't disapprove, a plan for a campaign to impose acreage controls on grain sorghums in exchange for a higher support price. Maybe most of the farmers in our county do not want acreage controls on maize, but they didn't show up to say one way or the other.

One point remains. The Grain Sorghum Producers Association has been authorized to represent to Congress that the farmers of Randall County would like to have acreage controls and a higher price for grain sorghums.

At the same time this is happening, and at the other end of the scale, two men have been fighting acreage controls. Stanley Yankus, a Michigan poultry raiser, announced that he was tired of fighting and is planning to move to New Zealand.

J. Evetts Haley Jr. of Canyon and other areas lost a case before the U. S. Supreme Court, and announced he would try appealing to Congress.

Both men were fined for growing more wheat than their allotment allowed. Both fed the wheat they raised to their animals, Yankus to his chickens and Haley to his cattle. There is one difference between the two cases.

Yankus had an allotment of 10 or so acres for his wheat. Haley had no allotment at all. But both cases had one common point.

Both Yankus and Haley thought the federal government had no right to tell them what to grow so long as the crops were not moved in interstate commerce.

They decided to fight, and apparently they got nowhere with their battles. They did what we are trying to show here. They made up their minds about what they wanted, and they went to bat for their ideas.

That's more than most of our citizens do. Any thinking person should commend Yankus and Haley for their battles, regardless of the way the person believes about acreage controls and price supports.

Yankus and Haley were not apathetic. Most of the people we know around here are apathetic to everything but a bridge game. May apathy decrease and interest increase soon. We certainly need it.

Stoplights

At various times, people wonder why there are no stoplights on 23rd Street in front of the elementary school and at the intersections in front of the college. You can usually find people who wonder why there is a light at the Fourth Avenue intersection.

Here is an editorial from The Prairie, the college newspaper, wondering about why there are no stoplights at the intersections of 23rd Street and Second and Third Avenues.

The editorial points out that things are mighty busy at those intersections, especially at noon, and questions:

"It is hard to understand why the state or city has never thought of that (putting up stoplights) before, or do they think this college is not important enough?"

Well, is the college (and the kids going to the elementary school) important enough?

What Our Neighbors Say ...

Scissor Snippings

Homer Steen in the Floydada Hesperian: A pundit in education last week wrote of something more than a third of Texas' school districts as a waste of the public's money. He said a district that is graduating less than 100 students annually is an absurdity, or words to that effect. He urges more consolidations to hold down costs. A good many school districts in Texas already are too big, covering a whole county. One of America's present day weaknesses is the inclination to uniformity, it seems to us, to try to put our humanity, like a can of syrup, all through the same size funnel.

Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune: A man's train of thought is seldom reluctant to pull on to a siding when a pretty girl is passing.

Cecil O. Waggoner in the Claude News: During his campaign for senator, Ralph Yarborough promised "to put the jam on the bottom shelf so the little fellow could reach it." I got a shock this week. I can't even reach the bottom shelf.

Protein Foods Dominate List

Foods high in protein content dominate the USDA's March plentiful foods list for this area.

Eggs are the food to feature since supplies are expected to run two to four per cent larger than a year ago.

Turkeys, broilers and fryers, pork and California canned sardines make up the plentiful meats.

Vegetables in good supply include cabbage, potatoes, celery and canned peas.

Dairy products, peanuts and peanut products, walnuts, honey and apples complete USDA's March plentiful list.

Southwest food distribution division of the Agricultural Marketing Service checks supplies nationally and locally to determine the monthly plentiful foods list. Only foods in heavier supply than average make the list.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Can you remember when lawn parties were held and the front yard was adorned with Japanese lanterns? (They were first called Chinese lanterns but, after the Russo-Japanese War, the name was changed.)

What was a Japanese lantern? It was made of colored paper, accordion-pleated and shaped round east and west and oblong north and south, illuminated by a candle.

The Chinese are credited with the invention of gunpowder and, when I was a boy, at Christmas, time I would receive a package of "Chinese fire-crackers." This package had lettering in Chinese—at least I suppose it was Chinese for I must confess I could not read Chinese and can not, now either. There were about 50 fire-crackers in a package and the cost was five cents.

You stuck a match to the fuse, waited till you were sure it was burning, then you tossed it and usually the cracker went off in mid-air with a mild "bang."

There is an expression that is coming more and more into use—and which, to me, sounds lacking in real interest: a sort of mechanical remark. Someone asks, "How are you?" and the reply often is, "I'm fine—and you?" Personally, I think, "I'm fine; how are you?" sounds more cordial.

Another expression I do not fancy is "Thank you" when the accent is a rising one on the "you," which is pronounced "yuh." If you are thanking someone, why shouldn't the emphasis be on "thank" or on both words equally?

"Moby Dick" is considered by some (of whom this columnist is not one) to be America's greatest novel. Certainly it is a powerful book. Melville had written himself out by the time he was 30—a fate as tragic as his Captain Ahab's.

Dear Editor,

The following is a copy of a letter I sent to Sen. Lyndon Johnson:

It is regrettable that political favoritism has become so apparent that I, as a farmer in the small grain belt, have to appeal directly to my elected representatives for a small corner of the huge loaf that is so freely doled out to other segments of this protected economy.

Milo is a very necessary part of our livelihood here in West Texas and is favorably comparable to corn as a feed. As a grower of this crop, it is ruinous to me to buy high-priced machinery and parts, to pay for expensive fuel and to furnish my own labor or hired labor—and sell it at 60% of parity when it is 95% the food value of corn which receives a much higher support price.

Something has to be done to one side or the other of this lopsided framework or thousands of hard-working, voting, taxpaying farmers are going to lose a ten-year struggle for their way of life.

THE CANYON NEWS

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

An Injustice To The Grain Sorghum Producers

The farmers were, undoubtedly, dismayed when Secretary Benson announced support prices for the 1959 grain sorghum crop at $1.52 cwt. He had previously announced a support price for corn at the price of $1.12 per bushel. I heartily disapprove of the action of the Secretary in these two matters.

I feel that he has indulged in favoritism to the corn producers and has subjected the grain sorghum producers to rank discrimination. The support price for corn was fixed in the law to be 90 per cent of the preceding three-year average price of corn received by farmers.

Although it is openly admitted that grain sorghum has at least 95 per cent of the feed value of corn, the Secretary did not want the law to specify that grain sorghum supports should be 95 per cent of the price support of corn.

It was argued that the Secretary would be fair and reasonable in fixing the price supports on grain sorghum on a basis in relation to the feed value of the two grains.

Under the circumstances, the law contained the provision that the price supports on feed grains, including grain sorghums, would be fair and reasonable in relation to the support for corn, and listed as one of the major factors for consideration the feed value of grain sorghum in relation to corn.

It was felt by the Congress that the Secretary would carry out his obligation to keep these two grains in relative relationship based upon feed value. However, the Secretary did not do this.

He has indulged in favoritism to the Midwest corn farmers and,

I repeat, in rank discrimination against the grain sorghum producers of this country. Had he followed the intent of Congress and a fair and honest approach to the problem, the price support on grain sorghums would have been about $1.83 cwt., which it was last year.

The price support fixed by the Secretary will, in many instances, be below the cost of production.

This practice concerning agriculture in this country is going to cause future trouble. I have said it many times, and I repeat it—the people on the farms are being forced to move into the cities because they have been unfairly attacked by propaganda and government practices.

Many of them are being forced to seek public welfare at tremendous expense to the American taxpayer, if this forced movement into the metropolitan areas is continued. The family farm that has been one of the main sinews of strength of the United States of America will be completely destroyed.

Obligational Authority

A fight is shaping up in the United States Congress on the issue of who should or should not have obligational authority insofar as congressional committees are concerned. There has been much dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Appropriations Committees have held closed hearings in passing upon appropriations items.

A number of years ago, a practice developed whereby other committees of Congress, in writing a bill, would include obligational authority to provide a source of funds to carry out the purpose of the bill. It is this practice that is under fire and constitutes the core of the issue. Many speeches will be made on the subject this year, and I am sure that much publicity will be given to the fight.

Number One Problem

Inflation continues to be the number one concern of most of the people writing to Members of Congress. I am happy to see that the people at the grassroots level are beginning to awaken to this insidious and dangerous trend that has been quietly cutting into the economy of this country. The voice of the people in a democracy is the much-needed force to bring about necessary reforms.

Garden Club Joins Texas Organization

The Canyon Garden Club has been accepted for membership in the Garden Clubs of Texas, Inc., according to state treasurer, Mrs. F. G. Scott of Midland.

She also reports that 91 new clubs have been accepted in the Texas organization, giving a total of 1237 clubs affiliated with the Texas group.

"Today's a great day for me — friend husband earned a day off from work and volunteered to do the wash for me. I see him now lugging a heavy basket of wet clothes out to line — watch his fingers turn blue as that icy wind bitterly blows . . . whoops . . . he just dropped a shirt, and it's a mess. (I can't tell what he's saying, but I'll bet he's thinking about an electric clothes dryer) and I think I'll be ready for him — I'll call the Reddy Kilowatt dealer right now about models and prices. Everybody tells me there's one to fit any budget. Say, here's an idea — if you don't have an electric clothes dryer then get your husband to hang out the wash — just once is all it'll take."

WT Faculty Members To Conduct Social Studies Conference Saturday

Members of the social sciences division at West Texas State College will present a program on "The Use of a Concept in Unifying the Teaching of Social Studies" at the annual Panhandle Social Studies Conference scheduled here Saturday.

The meeting this year has been planned from a questionnaire to social studies teachers of the area who said they wished a conference with "academic value," according to Herschel Coffee, chairman of the social sciences division at WT.

The concept to be used for the conference will be "inflation," and will be utilized by several speakers. The meeting will open at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of the education building, and purposes of procedures of the conference will be outlined by Dan Selakovich, assistant professor of social studies at WT.

A panel discussion on "Teaching the Concept of Inflation in the Social Studies" will present six members of the division. Coffee will present and define the concept.

Fighting with windmills has long been a vivid figure of speech. And in the days when windmills dotted our plains, it had meaning even for those who never heard of Cervantes' novel or its doughty hero, Don Quixote.

They understood windmills. And the idea of tackling one, whether with sword or shotgun, was automatically ridiculous.

Today the figure of speech may not be as effective as it once was, but the idea is as universal as ever. Perhaps one of the best current examples of windmill-tilting is seen when an adult tries to discuss character with a youngster. Now all adults weren't brought up to believe in authority. And, luckily, some young people are. But take an old-fashioned adult, who believes in living strictly by the rules, and a kid who has been brought up with no measuring stick but his own personal wishes, and you've got the perfect situation.

It's true that many of the older-generation standards of conduct were artificial. Some were based too much on "what people think." Others were handed down from Puritan days when living conditions were different. But many of them, like the practice boards for tennis, gave something solid against which to measure one's shots. Without them, a person never builds up a reserve against the real tests.

But the youngster who knows no rule but "what I want" — and to whom that is always granted — is at a loss to follow such argument. "Why play tennis?" he says. Or "What real tests?" To him, the 'giants' of his misbehavior exist only in the aging one's head.

Such an experience leaves the older, like Don Quixote, vanquished and the youngster unable to "dig" it.

The nicest way to wish them

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest ... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

After nearly seven weeks in session, the Legislature has not yet given any clear indication of how it will solve its basic problem — how much to spend and where to get it.

State agencies still insist they need every cent they asked for — and need it bad. But those who would be "fall guys" of money-raising measures proposed thus far show no genial willingness to ante up.

Gov. Price Daniel is still pushing hard for his tax program. He suggested that critics would do better to stop sniping and start snooping — for a better way.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert called the governor's plan to gain $18,000,000 by a change in bookkeeping just "legalizing a false statement." Budget Board Director Vernon McGee termed it "unworkable."

Daniel also contends that his plan for the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, abandoned property, etc., might help a lot of people, since the state first would advertise for rightful owners. But bankers and spokesmen for other affected industries called it "confiscation," said it would undermine public trust in their institutions. Corporations continue to blast at a franchise tax raise they say would increase their burdens as much as 500 per cent. A two-thirds vote of each House would be necessary to put this into effect to help with the deficit this year. Many say chances are dim.

A Lubbock legislator, Rep. H. J. Blanchard, made a survey on tax and spending attitudes. About 60 per cent of those replying opposed a sales tax. Roughly the same percentage favored more spending for teacher pay, higher education, old age assistance, state hospitals and prisons.

Gotta Have It

Strong pitches for more spending are being made by spokesmen for three major state services.

"I don't see how higher education can be financed without some broad-based tax," said J. R. Sorrell, chairman of the University of Texas Board of Regents. "You will have the backing of this administration and this board in selling it to the people of Texas."

"We are absolutely broke, we don't have a dollar," said Prison System Director O. B. Ellis. "Riots that will cost more than the appropriation requested may result, if conditions aren't improved."

"You can chop off dollars, but you can't chop off children," declared a representative of the Texas Youth Council. Director James A. Turman said money spent on parole supervision and rehabilitation of youngsters in trouble would save on future prison costs.

Three For Speaker

Three definite candidates already are jockeying for speakership of the House in 1961.

They are Reps. Wade Spillman of McAllen, Ben Glusing of Kingsville and L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. It may be a close-quarters fight. All are from the same general South Texas area.

Rep. Joe Burkett, who lost to present Speaker Waggoner Carr in a very close race, said he won't run again. Many members have protested early campaigning. They say it hampers work of present session.

"Freedom" Bill Delayed

Senate Committee has put in its "back pocket" a bill to set penalties for those who refuse to make public records public.

Measure is one of several "freedom of information" bills sponsored by a group of newsmen's organizations.

It was sent to subcommittee for reworking with no time set for the subcommittee to report. In some cases, such action means the bill is buried for the session.

New Agency Urged

A bill has been proposed to take tax collecting out of the Comptroller's Department and set up a new agency headed by a state collector of revenue.

All members of last session's Senate General Investigating Committee joined in sponsorship. They said they felt tax collecting could be handled more efficiently by an appointive officer of longer tenure.

The committee investigated the Comptroller's Department extensively last session. At one time members commented on the awkward position of an official who had to collect taxes and solicit votes — from the same people. However, the present Comptroller hasn't had any opposition in years.

Safety Conscious

Traffic safety legislation is developing into a major issue this session.

Rep. Tom James of Dallas has introduced the uniform traffic ticket bill, which he says will make for more effective enforcement against violators. He also proposes setting up county courts of record to review corporation court cases and also city traffic appeals courts.

James said he would join Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Dept. of Public Safety, in asking better salaries for state highway patrolmen.

James said he would join Col.

'42' Tournament To Begin Saturday

Plans were made for a "42" tournament when the Tongue and Thimble Club met recently in the home of Mrs. E. W. Schaeffer.

The Fairview community tournament will begin this Saturday and will end March 28. Prizes will be given for the high score each night and a grand prize will be given at the end of the four-week tournament.

Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Charles Sutton, Mrs. Serena Bryan, Mrs. Virgie Liston, and Mrs. J. W. Wesley will be hostesses for the first night.

Mrs. Charles Wilson, president, president, and Mrs. J. W. Wesley led the group in prayer. Club friends were drawn.

Mrs. Serena Bryan will host the next club meeting tomorrow.

Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Dept. of Public Safety, in asking better salaries for state highway patrolmen.

Garrison told a recent meeting that "if the present trend continues, every second child born in Texas today will be killed or injured in traffic accidents."

Speaker Waggoner Carr said he felt "the climate of opinion was more favorable than ever before" for safety legislation.

Short Snorts

Texas is pouring millions in state tax money into "inadequate, unnecessarily small school districts," said Texas Research League Director Alvin A. Burger in a recent speech.

Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry has been reappointed state adjutant general by Governor Daniel. Brig. Gen. William H. Martin was renamed assistant adjutant general.

Texas started 1959 by paying out more for unemployment compensation than it did in '58, the "recession year." Texas Employment Commission reported payments for January of this year were $5,613,664, compared to $4,918,511 a year ago.

In a generous gesture toward a new rival, a House resolution was proposed to fly the flag of Alaska beside the Texas flag when the new 49-star U. S. flag is first raised at the State Capitol.

Buy License; Catch a Fish

Fresh water fishing definitely is on the upgrade in Texas with an apparent break in winter weather, according to Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement.

"Wardens are reporting increased activities on every lake and stream in the state," Capt. Sprott said. "Some exceptionally large crappie are being taken in lakes in East Texas. Bass fishermen also are reporting catching some 6 to 8 pounders in most of the lakes. This is especially true in Falcon, on the Rio Grande south of Laredo."

There is an unconfirmed report of an 11-pounder being caught in Falcon last week. Eight pounders, however, have been frequent.

White bass are still running at the upper end of all major lakes. Some fantastic catches have been reported below the dams.

"This is a good time to warn fishermen they must have a license if they fish outside of their home counties or use a rod and reel," he said. This applies to all persons between the ages of 17 and 65. Texas has a universal license fee of $2.15 which permits fishing in both fresh and salt water. It applies to both residents and non-residents.

Brahms and Brubeck... an unlikely combination? Not to the man who recognizes the "best of its kind," be it arpeggios or appliances. That's why he insisted on a new GAS Clothes Dryer for his wife. He sees the advantages of instant heat (turn it on and it's on), and no heat hang-over (gas off, heat's gone!). He's observed how gentle Gas heat blows moisture away instead of baking it out. Clothes come out fluffier, more wrinkle-free and easier to iron! They last longer, too. Yes, in every way—economy included—GAS gives you more. And where the finest is truly appreciated... My, how things have changed since I began my food buying career. Now, there are wonderful foods frozen fresh for you . . . picked and packed at the peak of their flavor . . . ready to enjoy any time of the year. Pre-packaged meats, fruits, and vegetables that let you see, yet keeps them fresh and germ-free. Almost everything edible is available in neat, attractive packages. But with all these improvements there is the same old-fashioned friendliness I've always known. Fact is, the more you see these folks, the more you like them for they have combined old-fashioned friendliness with new-fashioned living . . . a combination that's pretty hard to beat.

PHSPA Convention

Olin Hinkle To Return for Talk Before Group He Helped Organize

Olin E. Hinkle, who was the first general manager of the Panhandle High School Press Association, will return here March 24 to speak to the silver anniversary convention of the group.

The convention is scheduled at West Texas State College, which has been headquarters for the high school journalism group since 1939.

Hinkle, who was later sponsor of the association when he moved to West Texas State as head of the journalism department, will be main speaker for the morning session.

General morning and a luncheon session will be held, along with sectional meetings for yearbook and newspaper students. The luncheon concludes with the awarding of trophies and certificates for prizes in contests in news writing and other phases of writing and editing.

Judging the contests for the PHSPA organization this year will be staff members of the Houston Chronicle.

Hinkle, now associate professor of journalism at the University of Texas, is a former president of the Panhandle Press Association. He was formerly managing editor of the Pampa Daily News, and was also managing editor of the Lexington Morning Herald in Missouri.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Have you noticed the difference between fields with stubble on them and fields left without protection the last few days? If you have not noticed the difference, look around the next time the wind picks up. You will see some fields with considerably less soil blowing. Take a closer look; what is the reason for this? You will very possibly see a good mulch cover of wheat or grain sorghum stubble.

Just what is stubble mulching and how does it work? First we will say that stubble mulching is a year-round way of managing plant residues on cropland. Planting and cultivating are all done so as to leave as much of the residues of the previous crop on top for cover until the next crop is established. This cover greatly reduces the speed of the wind close to the soil and the reduced force of the wind will not pick up as much soil. The stubble will also break the fall of the raindrops; as a result the surface soil will not "seal off" causing the water to run off.

To leave the most residue on top possible, plow as few times as possible; only to control weeds. To destroy weeds and control volunteer grain without destroying the stubble, use the wide sweeps or blades. It has also been noted that for best results, tillage should be only 3 or 4 inches deep except about one time a year to plow to about six inches deep to prevent the formation of a plow pan.

In general it is best not to use a disk-type implement except when the stubble is so heavy the amount of stubble needs to be reduced. When these larger amounts of stubble are disked in to the soil a small amount of nitrogen should be added to prevent a nitrogen tie-up in the decaying residue causing reduced yields.

The supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District believe that in most years the main problem will be to do everything possible to keep from destroying what little stubble you have and this can be done with the use of sweeps and chisels.

Hinders' Herd Tops January DHIA List

Louis Hinders' Holstein herd was top herd in milk and butterfat production in Dairy Herd Improvement Association figures, during January, according to Harold L. Hensley, supervisor.

Other top herds were Richmond Hales' Holsteins, Neil Downing's Holsteins, and West Texas State College's Holstein and Jersey herd.

Two WT Holsteins led the lists of 10 high cows in milk production and 10 high cows in butterfat production.

NO BILLS

People who pay as they go don't care how many months they put on the calendar.

To take hell for heaven would be a bad bargain. But the possibilities are one in two you may be making that bad bargain. If you are giving up God's free gift of forgiveness by ignoring Jesus Christ, you're choosing hell over heaven. Lent is the time the church reminds you of life's biggest and best bargain—God's free gift of heaven for hell.

That bargain is possible because God was willing to come from heaven and endure hell for man's sake. That was the bargain God was willing to make—He took hell for Himself to give heaven to you. This is the meaning of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

"Why will ye die?" is God's word urging you to take the best of God's "bad" bargain—take His Son for your Savior. The Lutheran church urges you to hear God's offer again during these days of Lent.

Due to a typographical error, one item in the Randall County Audit report for 1958 gave a false impression. The item should have been Repair and Maintenance of Machinery, $24,000. In last week's paper, the item said, Machine Insurance, $24,000.

REPAIR WATER DAMAGED FIELDS insure proper field drainage for the future

Now it's easy and economical to move dirt, fill water pockets, smooth and level field surfaces with an...

Eversman AUTOMATIC LAND LEVELER AND DIRT MOVER

FOR OPEN LAND If you have land open, you will find summer and fall the ideal time to make permanent improvements on your fields. Whether your problem is too much or too little rainfall, land smoothing is a necessary practice to control and efficiently manage the water on your fields. During a wet season, land forming will provide fast, uniform surface drainage and erosion control. If the season is dry, land preparation conserves all the natural rainfall and permits uniform application of supplemental irrigation water. Smooth your fields before planting permanent pastures—for better germination and stands, and to eliminate low, wet spots.

Excessive moisture in most areas this year has played havoc with farm fields and points up the urgent need for a MOISTURE MANAGEMENT program utilizing the Eversman Land Leveler and Dirt Mover. With the Eversman it is easy and economical to repair washed out areas, move dirt from the high places into the low water pockets, establish a grade over the entire surface so water spreads evenly over the field and slowly drains into adjacent drainage ditches. The Eversman is also an ideal machine for building farm-over drainage ditches or grass water ways. After the dirt moving operation is completed the same machine smooths and levels field surfaces, eliminating dead furrows and back furrows and the high spots and depressions, making an ideal seed bed that greatly increases crop yields through uniform planting and uniform stands. The Eversman is a must for efficient irrigation. The smooth table-top surfaces make it possible to put water on fields uniformly with less water and with great savings in labor.

There are seven all purpose Eversman Models for all standard farm tractors—for Automatic Soil Smoothing, Dirt Moving, Seed Bed Preparation. A size for every tractor size, at a cost to fit every pocketbook. Come in today for full details.
